THE GLAM TEAM'S HAIR HACKS

GET UP AND GO

Braids are super-low maintenance and save me so much time when I'm getting ready (to go to my home office, 500m away). Scalp massages encourage blood circulation and hair growth. I find myself massaging my scalp at least five times a day, and I love the refreshing feeling of peppermint and natural oils. This helps because I'm used to washing my hair frequently – I love a clean, well-nourished scalp. – Beauty Editor Jesé-Ché Lillienfeldt can't live without Dark and Lovely Au Naturele Wash Free Braid Refresher (R59.99) and Naturally Africa Braid Moisturizing Spray (R139.95)

We share our go-to style for the season, and the products our hair is absolutely loving right now.

NATURAL CURLS

I wash my hair in the evening, apply Moroccanoil Intense Curl Cream (R500), rough-dry it with a hairdryer, then tie it up. When I take my hair down the next day, I have a beautiful, natural curl with a wave. – Tania Durand, Fashion Assistant

TAMED MANE

The simplest and easiest way to achieve curls without adding heat to my hair is to condition and mask after washing it, then towel-dry it and brush out the knots. I apply Aunt Jackie's Knot on My Watch Instant Detangling Therapy (R65.99). Then, I divide it into four sections and braid each one, tying the ends with hair ties. You can either sleep with this style for a maximum curl or wait until your hair's dry before you loosen the braids. I also apply Moroccanoil Treatment Oil Light (R590) to control ends and fly-aways. – Robyn-lee Pretorius, Art Director

THE CHIGNON

It's quick to do – two hair ties do the trick – and because your hair's wet it slicks back easily and looks chic with a red lip. – Senior Copy Editor Lisa Abdellah uses Iwori Organic African Baobab Ultra-Nourishing Hair Oil Treatment (R129.99)

SLICKED BACK, STRESS-FREE

I like to keep it simple when it comes to most things – minimum input but maximum output. The same goes for my number-one hair hack. Once I've showered, I part my hair straight down the middle and simply slick all my hair back into a low, twisted bun with a comb. Then, I use Elizabeth Arden Eight Hour Cream All-over Miracle Oil (R415) to smooth frizz. It's neat, chic and takes about five minutes. – Mira Leibowitz, Fashion Editor

HYDRATED

'Moisturised, healthy and luxurious' is my mantra when it comes to my coils. I absolutely love Suki Suki Naturals Mango Butter (R235), which softens my hair – and it smells amazing! – Nontando Mposo, Editor-in-Chief
